

Public Speaking Workshop

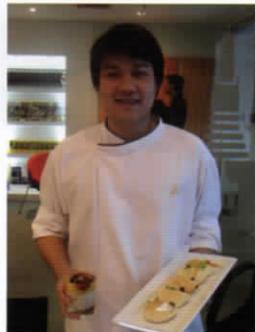

Tuesday, 11 March was the date for one of Bjorn Turmann's all day public speaking workshops. The event saw a mixture of Thai and foreign, experienced and inexperienced presenters come along and enhance their natural style of speaking. AustCham would like to thank Bjorn for another great workshop.

Creating Lasting Health Webinar

Guests attending a breakfast webinar by Jeff Nieuwenhuizen, were in for a special treat. On Tuesday, 30 March the Chivas Som team brought along one of their chefs, and with him; organic muesli, raw vegetable salad wraps and a morning energiser drink. Jeff's presentation gave an overview of ways we can improve our overall health to prevent or reduce problems that affect us in our later years of life. Online participants asked a range of questions including those about spirulina, dencorub, red wine and caffeine. Thanks go to Jeff and his team for the talk as well as attendees and online participants for making a fun and interesting breakfast.

Joint Chamber Briefing: How to motivate Your Staff

Following a SME survey conducted by AustCham, they identified that "how to motivate staff" was a popular topic. On Thursday, 18 March AustCham joined with the British and New Zealand Chambers on this occasion at a new event location; the Bangkok Bank Headquarters on Silom Road. Dao Duangvipha Makkitti from Resource Link Thailand, Sukhavichai Dhanasundara from Brainforce and TV Anchor Dr Valerie McKenzie from Thana Burin Asia Pacific each gave a unique angle on the topic before a lively panel discussion with attendees. Thanks must go to the participating chambers, speakers and the Bangkok Bank for working together to make an enjoyable event.

Webinar: Tools to Succeed Though the Next Crisis

Jean Francois gave a very interactive presentation to assist professionals with improving their personal leadership styles. The breakfast briefing was held at the AustCham office on Tuesday, 23 March and broadcast to other participants via the internet. For members who are interested in joining our next webinar online, please note the details in your next AustCham webinar email.